10	Students feedback mechanism on institutional Governance /Faculty performance	Student feedback is collected at regular intervals through multiple modes. Oral feedback is obtained by the Director and Heads of Departments, and written feedback is collected using a standard prescribed format. The feedback received from students is systematically analyzed, and appropriate corrective and preventive measures are implemented based on the analysis. Students are encouraged and are free to meet the Head of the Department or the Director at any time to express their views regarding the performance of any teacher. In addition, online student feedback is collected twice in each semester with complete confidentiality. Students provide feedback on individual teachers with respect to punctuality, regularity, preparation for lectures, communication skills, presentation on the board, encouragement to ask questions, classroom interaction, completion of syllabus, level of interaction during practical sessions, and availability of teachers outside the classroom for additional academic guidance.
11	Grievance Redressal Mechanism for faculty, staff and students	A supportive and open atmosphere has been established to address the concerns of students and faculty members. A Grievance Redressal Cell has been constituted to receive and resolve student grievances effectively. Complaint boxes have been placed at prominent locations across the college campus to facilitate easy submission of concerns. Additionally, contact details including phone numbers, mobile numbers, and email IDs have been made available to students to report grievances at any time. Students are also encouraged to communicate their concerns via email, all of which are given due importance and prompt attention.
